At the time of St. Juan Diego’s life in Mexico, people were often not treated with respect. When the Blessed Mother appeared to St. Juan Diego, speaking to him in his own language, she reminded him that we should treat all with love and respect. She left on his cloak a remarkable image of herself as a sign of God’s love.

In the space below draw a picture or write about how you can show God’s love and respect towards others and yourself.

Respect for God: ________________________________
______________________________________________

Respect for others: ____________________________
______________________________________________

Respect for myself: ____________________________
______________________________________________